Mission Review: Infiltration expert Solid Snake, called out of retirement by his former Foxhound commander Col. Roy Campbell, has been tasked with Shadow Moses Island after its takeover by genome-enhanced insurgents.

The rebels claim to have access to nuclear weapons—weapons they have been intended to use if they demand the abolition of Snake's objective is to fire out if there is any chance the terrorists' threat, and to neutralize that threat.

His secondary objective is to rescue the hostages taken by the rebels: DARPA chief Dr. Gerald Anderson and Kenneth Baker, President of Armstrong. Anderson already has been the victim of a suspicious heart attack.

and Snake has found Baker captive in a web of wires, connected to explosive gadgets. But before he can free the captive, he must race his toughest adversary yet: the legendary sniper known as Revolver.

Revolver Ocelot

Sex: Male

Status: Single

Age: Fifties

Nationality: Russian

Height: 182 cm.

Additional skills:

Marksman with exceptional skills. Accomplished sharpshooter who prefers using vintage American revolvers. Expertise in torture and information extraction.

Although inspired by the lore and legend of the American Old West, Revolver Ocelot is a product of the former Soviet Union. With the fall of the Russian empire, Revolver Ocelot left his police unit to join the KGB's special forces. This proved to be an uneasy fit, as Ocelot's independence and unique style of combat put him at odds with his superiors. Knowing he needed a change, Ocelot jumped at the chance to join Foxhound when it was offered to him.

The origin of Revolver Ocelot's obsession with the American West is unknown, but manifests itself in both his appearance and fighting style. He prefers the long duster and antique suit of this bygone era, and his favorite weapon is the Colt Single Action Army Revolver, a gun produced in the 1860s. He enjoys the challenge of having to reload during battle... an opportunity afforded him by his amazing accuracy with the firearm.

Roy Campbell

R o y C a m p b e l l

Real Name: Roy Campbell

Sex: Male

Status: Married

Age: Sixties

Nationality: American

Height: 170 cm.

Additional skills:

Ex-Green Beret and Delta Force, Exceptional tactical and leadership skills.

The original commander of Foxhound, Colonel Roy Campbell was called out of retirement by the United States government to spearhead a covert surgical strike into the heart of Shadow Moses Island, the headquarters of renegade former Foxhound operatives and mercenaries who have threatened a nuclear strike unless their demands are met. A close association and long history with Solid Snake, the one operative capable of successfully infiltrating Shadow Moses, made Campbell the top choice to find and lure him into reinstatement for one final mission.

Upon tracking Snake down, the Colonel set up Operations Command on an Ohio Class submarine off the coast of the Fox Archipelago. Unlike previous missions, this one has personal ramifications, as his niece, Meryl Silverburgh, is being held captive on Shadow Moses Island.
